

UNITED STANDARD INDUSTRIES, INC.

Comprehensive Quality Manufacturing

Welcome to United Standard Industries

Within our 35,000 square foot facility we produce some of the most complex parts and assemblies in the United States. With a focus on quality and customer satisfaction, USI has successfully grown to become one of the finest machine shops in the world. We are certified to ISO 9001:2000 by Eagle Registrations, Inc.

A key element to our success is diversity. Over the years we have machined parts for the pneumatics, defense, automotive, medical, and related industries. We manufacture our products from ferrous and non-ferrous materials, bar stock, castings, forgings, plastics, rod, and sheet.

What makes any successful operation run is the people involved in the every day processes. Our team attitude coupled with our low turnover of employees enables us to work together cohesively in working towards our goal of complete customer satisfaction.

In order to perform at such a high level of excellence, United Standard Industries has over 110 machine tools in-house with a heavy commitment towards CNC. If you're looking for a quality machined assembly or part that involves more than one discipline, United Standard Industries is your choice hands down.

We also manufacture and distribute:

- BORIS Optical Inspection System
- USI Multipurpose Tool Holder System
